ABOUT:

My love of cinematography was born in the hustle of a mosh pit, touring with punk bands and brandishing a beat-up Canon DSLR at every show.

I've always been drawn to images that are vibrant, layered, and beautiful. Images that make you lean towards your screen. My work spans the worlds of commercial, entertainment and documentary filmmaking, and I'm the proud recipient of two ACS Gold Tripods – shiny metal trophies from the Australian Cinematographers Society that represent the pinnacle of achievement.

I pride myself on bringing out the best in production crews and creative collaborators of all kinds, realising the vision of Directors and Clients within the challenging, high-speed environment of a film set.

I'm based in Sydney, Australia. I still sing punk songs in the shower
